Sequoia Students Take Tests In Automobile Driving Safety

QUITE A PLAYTHING — A testing period occurred last week when (left to right) State Sen. Harry L. Parkman, Asst. County Supt. of Schools Henry C. Hall, Sequoia High School Supt. Clyde Ogden, and (sitting) Robert M. Moore, in charge of safety education for the County Dept. of Education, gathered to inspect a new set of driver testing devices. Ogden is checking ability at determining distances—or depth perception.

Sequoia Board Delays Naming New School; Awaits Public Reaction

After receiving four letters of protest to the tentative name of the new south-end high school, Sequoia High School Dist. trustees Friday night placed the matter on next month's agenda and sat back to await public reaction on the controversial christening.

The letters were in protest to the name Menlo Park High School tentatively approved at the last meeting.

Among names suggested by letter-writers were Lindenwood, Oak Grove, Oakwood Branch of Sequoia, and Atherton-Memlo Park High School.

Admitting that he and his fellow trustees were not yet ready to play Solomon, Pres. Charles Burgess of the board suggested that the matter be allowed to "simmer for a while."

Trustee Keith Cole suggested that the name be given to the public through the newspapers as a "popularity poll" with the winner decided by vote.

Because of police and perhaps fire department confusion which would develop if the Menlo Park tag became official, Trustee Kenneth L. Bowen agreed that some other name might be more suitable.

It was pointed out by Pres. William B. Kratt of Menlo College that Menlo High School and his institution would frequently become mixed up by post office officials as well as the general public because of the similarity of names.

Letters from the planning commission of the town of Atherton and the Civic Interest League of Atherton added to the protests.

Each pointed out that the school is in Atherton town limits, that police authority will be Atherton's and urged that any name involving either Atherton or Menlo Park be avoided.

Each letter suggested general names which would serve to symbolize the south end area, rather than either city served by the school.

Mrs. George Angus, 75 Winchester Dr., Atherton, suggested Oakwood Branch as a suitable name.

George H. Lindsley Jr., chairman of the Civic Interest League, asked for a descriptive name and another spectator urged that "an oak name" be adopted rather than one using Lindenwood. He pointed out that the oaks are native and of a permanent nature, while the Lindenwood trees also prevalent are an importation from the East.

Burgess assured those present that "the wishes of the people will be given every consideration" before any name is finally adopted.

In other action, the board awarded a $901.25 contract to Charles Berg of San Francisco, lone bidder, for a triplex power mower with a 75-inch blade.

The trustees also tentatively awarded a bid for 145 magazines to Charles H. Ward of Redwood City. Ward's low bid was $447.64. There were three other bidders.

The final award of contract was held up until Business Mgr. Humphrey J. Lynch investigates to make sure the bid is in proper order.

The board tentatively set Dec. 2 as the time for another closed meeting with Sequoia teachers' Advisory Council, though Trustee Merritt Hosmer made an unsuccessful bid to have the conference open to the public.

The last meeting, held a week ago, "got absolutely nowhere," according to Hosmer. He said he did not want to sit in on another four-hour session unless the advisory group problem could make headway.

The matter developed into a debate between Cole and Hosmer, with the latter calling for representation by "the entire faculty" and not the representatives of the Teachers Assn.

Hosmer based his dissatisfaction with the five-man committee elected a month ago on a contention that the council did not represent all teachers.

Cole said that the trustees had asked the teachers to elect their representatives.

"Why not let them go ahead," he asked.

Hosmer countered with a statement that he would concede all Cole viewpoints, on the matter once he was convinced that the Teachers Assn. was a broader organization than the faculty as a whole.

Women's Guild Plans Christmas Bazaar Dec. 3

The Women's Guild of the San Carlos Community Church will have a Christmas Gift Bazaar Saturday afternoon, Dec. 3, at Cherrington Hall and Junior Hall of the church. Doors will open at 2 o'clock, and from 6:30 to 8 p.m. a home cooked family dinner will be served.

Among articles on sale will be aprons, tea towels, dish cloths, good used clothing, homemade candy, Christmas cards and stuffed dolls. There will also be booths for a grab bag, a white elephant sale, baked goods, while a booth for serving cake and tea will be ready for shoppers as well.

Belmont Set To Reduce Police Force

Councilman Lyle Jones of Belmont today confirmed reports that the city's police department will be reduced by two men Dec. 1 unless the council overrules the police commission's recommendation at its next meeting.

The two police officers slated for the layoff are William Smith and George Dipaola, described by Chief O. Walter Lindholm as "both good men."

The cutback will reduce the force to but six men including Chief Lindholm, he said.

Both officers had been on only "temporary status," Jones said in confirming the report. He said that Smith had been hired to fill in during the vacation period now over.

Dipaola, Jones continued, was added to the force two months ago when Mrs. Nan B. Andrews' attacks by what is suspected as a "sex fiend" occurred.

Jones said he and fellow councilmen "think a great deal of them," but that budgeted funds will no longer support the two temporary officers now that "things have quieted down pretty well."

In reply, Chief Lindholm said that the department actually needs one additional man, adding that increase in recent crime on the Peninsula pointed up need for maintaining present forces.

Chief Lindholm said that the conference of Peninsula officers with Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis last week showed that there are not sufficient officers to serve the county's increased population.

Decision to set up a central information bureau for use of all departments in the county was also cited as evidence that crime is on the increase.

Belmont Church Women Plan Christmas Dinner

Mrs. Harry Holder, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Belmont, announced plans for a Christmas banquet for the group on Dec. 17 at the regular meeting last week.

Mrs. Lloyd Kohler, Mrs. Thomas Woodard and Mrs. H. C. Hager will be in charge of design, printing and distribution of the programs for the affair.

Decorations of the tables will be done by Mmes. Walter Guild, George Webb and C. D. Price. Mmes. David Sears, Aaron Hieronymus, John Fox and C. E. Gilroy were appointed to decorate the parish house.

A nominating committee composed of Mmes. Harrison Klages, William Brady, John Watts, Thomas Soult and Jack Reeves was appointed to select officers for the ensuing year.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Arthur Poole of Palo Alto, discussed Christian education and Mrs. Donovan Young displayed and discussed religious books for children and their parents.

FOR COUNTY'S TUBERCULOSIS PATIENTS—This is how Architect Douglas Dacre Stone reports the new $1,500,000 Canyon TB Hospital will look after it is completed. The plans for the 100-bed facility were presented to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors recently. Stone said that work would probably begin on the building about the middle of January. Board members indicated they would call for bids shortly. Work cannot start until patients at the present Canyon Sanatorium are moved temporarily to the County Relief Home west of Belmont. Voters approved a bond issue for construction of the new hospital at Canyon site after the supervisors had been unable to decide themselves on the best location. Stone said construction of the new facility would probably take about 18 months. The Canyon site is located off Whipple Ave., west of Redwood City.

Speech Clinic At Grade Schools

A speech clinic at McKinley School is operating as a special service of the Redwood City Elementary School System. Any child may attend whether he is enrolled in school or not, according to Supt. Andrew Spinas.

Special efforts are made to aid pre-school children who have difficulty in speech development. Work is done individually or in small groups of five and six. Conferences are held with parents to provide supplementary help, Spinas said.

The clinic is part of the speech correction program of the elementary schools, organized last semester by Mrs. Dorothy Menzel. Correction is emphasized in the first grade where the greatest number of speech problems are present and in the upper grades where serious speech defects are found.

Sessions are held Friday afternoons, 1 to 4 o'clock at McKinley School on Duane St. Spinas urges all interested parents to use the service. Appointments can be made by calling EM. 6-3633 or by calling at the school office.

A. L. Mewhirter Dies at Jackson

News has been received in San Carlos of the death yesterday last week of A. L. Mewhirter, formerly of San Carlos, who was serving as assistant district attorney of Amador County, at Jackson.

Mr. Mewhirter, who had suffered a severe heart attack a few years ago, collapsed at his desk in Jackson early Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mewhirter, who had lived for 16 years in San Carlos, moved to Jackson a year ago last June, after Mr. Mewhirter's retirement from the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co. with which he had been associated for 35 years.

Troval Mewhirter, a son who is also with the telephone company, was notified Thursday afternoon and left for Jackson to join his mother while Sharon Mewhirter, a daughter who is a sophomore at the College of the Pacific, has also returned to her home in Jackson.

Word was received by Mayor E. R. Burton from the district attorney's office in Jackson Thursday while he was attending a meeting of bay area police in Vallejo. Mayor Burton returned to San Carlos immediately and he and Mrs. Burton drove to Jackson.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mewhirter were prominent in civic and social circles during their residence in San Carlos, and their son and daughter went through the San Carlos School and Sequoia High School. Troval served in the South Pacific in the navy during the war.

Active in civilian defense activities of the city during the war, Mr. Mewhirter also served for some years on the San Carlos School Board of Trustees, was a member of the local American Legion Post, and both the local Masonic Lodge and the San Carlos Masonic Club. Edmond's Plan on Courthouse Gains Supervisorial Support Supervisor Henry W. Edmonds' plan to build a seven-story courthouse on the site of the present structure has received approval from another supervisor, but with modifications.

Martin A. Poss, supervisor from San Mateo, said that he favored a building along the lines suggested by Colonel Edmonds, but added that a courthouse annex first should be constructed on California Square.

The square block, cater-corner from the courthouse, could be used as a site for a hall of justice type of building, housing four superior courts, the district attorney's office, possibly the county clerk's office or any other department affiliated with the courts, Poss declared.

If Edmonds' plan is followed, he pointed out, the first step would be to build a new firehouse for the county forest service. Edmonds' plan called for the razing of the present rickety structure, and one next to it and using the site for a three-story office building.

The first step toward alleviating the congestion in the courthouse, Poss felt, is to utilize California Square, if that is unavailable, then Edmonds' suggestion to use the firehouse site should be followed.

Poss believed that construction on the California Square building should start within a year. The legal red tape surrounding the title can be untangled within six months.

Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis revealed that the title company attorneys want a decision from the State Supreme Court as to the ownership of the square, even though an enabling act has been passed through the state legislature.

Court clarification proceedings should be started by Redwood City, Dematteis declared. He said the title company attorneys believed court action could be completed in eight or nine months.

Poss also said that the plan to put up a tall office building on the site of the old courthouse structure was embodied in a planning commission survey made several years ago. It was one of the alternate plans for future courthouse development.

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald today also gave qualified approval to Colonel Edmonds' plan. "I believe that the function of the county government should be concentrated under one roof," McDonald declared. "The growth of the county will necessitate far more facilities than we now have available."

However, McDonald felt that the supervisors should put California Square to some use. He said that the growth of the county may require more office space than would be available in the one building suggested by Edmonds.

He also added that the first step toward utilizing the property now housing the county fire department would be to build a new station for the fire fighters. McDonald also was in favor of Colonel Edmonds' proposal that courthouse construction to a large degree be financed by bond issue, thus throwing part of the cost onto future generations, which will get much of the benefit from the new courthouse.

Bids Open in Woodside For Playground Work

Low bidder for the Woodside School playground work is the A. T. Bennett Construction Co. of Palo Alto. Bids were opened this week by the board of trustees. Baseball and football fields, as well as basketball areas are the main features. A much needed parking area and paved road are to be finished sometime after the first of January, the trustees said.

$1,250,000 Hotel, Shopping Center Due In South San Mateo

Plans were announced recently for a $1,250,000 hotel and shopping district in South San Mateo by William P. Kyne, general manager of the California Jockey Club.

The new hotel, to be known as Rancho Meadows, will be built on a 40-acre tract bounded by Poinsettia Ave. and Pacific Blvd. The property formerly was occupied by Bay Meadows stables.

Construction is expected to get under way by early summer, Kyne said today. It will be financed by either a bond or stock sale.

At the same time he released his hotel plans, Kyne also announced that the 200-acre tract now occupied by Bay Meadows Airport has been put up for sale by the Jockey Club.

This section is zoned for light industrial, Kyne pointed out that he hoped to sell it either in one or two parcels. The entire 200 acres are valued at $800,000.

The area is now served by spur railroad tracks, Kyne pointed out. He said it is ideal for location of light industrial plants.

In an application filed with the San Mateo Planning Commission today, the Jockey Club requested a variance from first residential zoning to commercial for the new hotel site.

Plans for Rancho Meadows call for 262 sleeping units, 354 auto parking spaces, 16 mercantile shops, six tennis courts and two swimming pools.

Maury Diggs of San Francisco is the architect.

His drawings show a circular layout for the hotel and shopping district, with entrances on both Poinsettia Ave. and Pacific Blvd. This location will place the development a block off El Camino Real and Hillsdale Blvd. in the old McClellan estate.

A circular shopping plaza surrounds the divided pool, running out from this plaza, containing 16 shops, are the hotel buildings and covered parking lots, much as the spokes of a wheel.

Although included in the overall plans for the hotel, the shopping plaza is being promoted as a separate undertaking by Sam J. Whiting who will appear before the planning commission at its study session, Nov. 28, to explain his plans.

An administration building and dining room will be located in the northwest corner of the property, plans show. The tennis courts will be located in the southwest corner.

Kyne explained that stockholders in the California Jockey Club (owner of Bay Meadows Race Track) will finance the new undertaking.

Cleaner Plans Court Action

Henry R. Burton, former operator of the Howard Cleaners in Burlingame, announced today he will file suit against his partner, Maurice D. Rutledge of Redwood City, charging false arrest and defamation of character.

Burton, who was charged with grand theft by Rutledge, had his case dismissed by San Carlos Judge R. C. Johnson late Wednesday at a preliminary hearing.

Among the charges Burton said he will file are libel, slander and malicious prosecution. He will also ask the court to order a dissolution of the partnership agreement and an accounting.

Rutledge, meanwhile, has indicated he will file damage charges and a suit seeking a writ of replevin.

When arrested previously for passing bad checks, "Bubbles," operating under the name of Menata Salazar, was taken to the jail by a deputy and a matron.

Joy Talbot Turns In Mature Performance in 'Daughters of Atrous'

By IRENE BRENNAN

Joy Talbot turned in an amazingly mature performance in the dramatic role of Klytimestra, Queen of Mycenae, last week in the opening night performance of the Sequoia High School Players production of "Daughters of Atrous," a modern version of Homer's Iliad by Robert Turney.

While Greek tragedy is difficult enough for experienced actors and actresses, it becomes even harder for teenagers who's mannerisms and voices lack the mature qualities and characteristics necessary to carry off such a play as "Daughters of Atrous," which involves little or no action. However, credit must be given to the some 50 high school players who turned in adequate performances last evening. We must add, that they were at their best in the roles which called for them to be young, especially Lucille Nissen, a 9-year-old from Lincoln School, who played the role of Electra as a child with naturalness.

Miss Talbot in her role as the Queen, central figure in the tragedy of revenge and death for the family of Atrous, showed that she is an experienced young actress and appeared capable and at ease in all of the scenes. Especially well done was the second scene of the first act when she

School Board In Belmont Airs Plans

Trustees of the Belmont Elementary Dist. will meet with Architect Oscar Price of Confer, Ponsford & Price concerning preliminary plans for the new Cipriani school site in Western Belmont at tonight's regular meeting.

Mrs. Mark Nesbit, superintendent for the district, said the board will discuss future school sites, including location of a fourth school.

The Cipriani site, comprising 6.44 acres, is located on property bounded by Buena Vista, Monserate, and Ponce Aves. and Carmelita Way.

The city's proposed fourth school, Mrs. Nesbit said, may be located east of the railroad tracks, where more than 150 children live. The city-wide census now being taken will probably determine finally where the school will be constructed, she said.

Some 600 cards have already been sent out to homeowners, though results have not been tabulated. Until all cards have been returned, no final action can be taken on school site needs, Mrs. Nesbit said.

She urged those who have not yet filled out cards providing needed information to do so immediately.

The trustees are also expected to let the contract for a master landscape plan at tonight's 7:30 o'clock meeting.

The board also has a request from the city council regarding application for a master recreation plan to be obtained from the State Recreation Commission.

The board is asked to write to Chmn. Sterling Winans of the commission.

Peninsula Homes for Americans

—Tribune Photo

BY RICHARD KEUSINK

Designed by Architect John Davis Young of Menlo Park, this attractive Atherton home is planned for informal country living.

The home is that of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Van Asperen, 156 Hawthorne Dr., in the Lindenwood Tract of Atherton.

Although the home is designed primarily for country living, it is an attractive one for any Peninsulan who wishes to build the more "natural" type of home.

The exterior is built of the natural redwood, enhanced by buff Roman brick which blends easily with the surrounding landscape. The white roof, by its reflective property, aids the rockwool insulation of the ceiling in maintaining a cool house in summer and a snug shelter in the winter time.

Part of the home's living space is actually outside the house.

The patio is protected by a cantilevered roof while the pavement of the patio is of green concrete, broom swept, with redwood division strips which blend with the color of the backyard.

A radiant heating system is buried in the concrete floor slab and is controlled by both indoor and outdoor thermostats. One of the features of the system is an outdoor control which "anticipates" changes in the weather and sets up the heating system at the proper temperature in advance.

Flexibility in room arrangements throughout the house is provided by a separate entrance and bath for the den.

The den can also serve as a maid's room.

An electric dishwasher and a gas-burning garbage disposal unit add to this very modern house and there are ample closets at strategic locations throughout the house.

The master bathroom plan of separating the dressing room permits more flexibility of use and the Formica counter on either side doubles as a dressing table.

Kitchen floors are of rubber tile and the living room and dining room are carpeted. The remainder of the floors are in asphalt tile.

The building was constructed by the Lindley Construction Co. of Atherton.

Infant Boy Suffocates In Belmont

Coroner's deputies today were investigating the death of a month-old Belmont baby who apparently suffocated in its crib early last evening.

The child was Harold Wallace Benson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Benson, 1741 Frances Ct., who died even though firemen and a doctor worked over the child for more than an hour.

The Belmont Fire Dist. rescuator squad, led by Chief Elbert E. Miller, arrived at the Benson home at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Walter J. Hamilton of San Carlos was also on the scene when rescue operations started.

"We did everything possible," he said, "I cannot say enough in praise of the Belmont rescue squad, they were most efficient and should be praised highly for their fine work."

The Rev. John E. Daley, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Belmont, was also at the scene and today was en route home from Bishop with Mr. Benson who was not at home when the tragedy occurred.

Mr. Benson, who has resigned from his position with the Belmont Water Rd., works in Bishop much of the time, neighbors said.

Funeral services are pending at the Patterson & O'Connell Funeral Home in San Mateo. The coroner's office said an autopsy "probably will be held," though further action is pending arrival of the baby's father.

It was the second rescue attempt by Belmont firemen within a fortnight.

On Nov. 4 they were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ockenfels, 1514 Ridge Rd., where attempts to revive 2-year-old Frances Armanda Ockenfels, who drowned in a fish pond, failed.

THAT

The 75 Club dinner-dance, which was attended by 55 couples, was a delightful affair. Decorations at Cherington Hall carried out the "Gold Room" theme, with gold candleholders and candles, and gold chrysanthemums. Every gal as she entered was handed a program with her name on it in gold letters. . . . Everybody had hot cider, and then a turkey dinner with trimmings. . . . Responsible for the decorations and dinner were Suzanne Parsons, Harold Larsen, Georgiana Larsen, Rachel Barnsley, Agnes Taft, Myron Greenlee, Mabel Musgrave, Enid Templeton, Merle Ricks, Alice Rutherford and Bill Prescott.

Alice Felling introduced guests, Gloria and Nick Codianne, Emily and Bob Lind, Dorothy and Jerry Mast, Don and Norma Singer, the I. Bolands, and the C. Greenmans.

Guests heard a special recording of the "horrible noises" used in the club's Spook Hollow built at the recreation center for the Halloween festivities. It was agreed that Don Bull had done such a good job that he should be chairman again next year.

Officers for the next six months, who were introduced by Perry Taft, include Don Anderson, president; Suzanne Parsons, vice president; Alice Rutherford, secretary-treasurer; Agnes Taft, membership chairman; Billie Steiger, publicity, and Thor Madsen, recreation director.

President Anderson's speech of acceptance was the highlight of the evening. Anderson proved his ability at histrionics. . . . He mimed the talk while a recording of his speech was played over the P. A. system. . . . After all the doings, everybody danced for the rest of the evening.

TRIBUNE

News of Commuters

BY JIM SMITH

The Southern Pacific Co., defending champion, weighed in at the San Mateo County Courthouse this morning, closely followed by the underdog challenger, Peninsula Commuters, before the State Public Utilities Commission and a large gallery of ardent backers.

The commuters feel that they are going into this fight much better trained than at any previous time. Atty. Howard Magee, manager of the doctory challenger, feels that before the third round, the underdog will show whether he is in proper condition. You will find a complete word picture of the first round elsewhere in the Tribune.

Aside from this clash of opinion regarding a commute raise, but oddly enough, in relation to it, we are pleased to have this opportunity to thank the Southern Pacific Co. for its fine cooperation in arranging the distribution of the Peninsula Protective Assn. letter on all the southbound commute trains last Wednesday.

This favor is truly appreciated, because it saved a heck of a lot of trouble and expense if they would have had to get those 10,000 letters out on time. The manner in which this came about is intriguing.

Quarterback Magee called the signals, the ball was snapped back to Bill McKeegan who later called to T. Louis Chess who threw a long pass to Vice Pres. Claude Peterson. Behind perfect blocking, the letter was placed on every seat in all the trains.

At the risk of being called an old harpy, I wish again to refer you to the Peninsula Protective Assn. letter sent out by Chairman Magee. If all 10,000 commuters who received this letter would put four bits each in the permit stamped envelope and mail it, we'd be in like Flynn. But the law of averages doesn't work that way. Therefore, this constant reminder.

Those of you who take this protest as seriously as we take it, make use of the envelope and forward your contribution at once to 1839 Broadway, Redwood City. The Public Utilities Commission is impressed mostly by facts. It costs a lot of money to hire experts to get those facts—and figures.

Our monthly dinner meeting last Tuesday was everything we promised it would be in the way of interest and entertainment. Guest speaker Jim Reynolds held the 60 commuters and their guests with his every word through the entire evening. A sincere plea to those present was made for encouraging good sportsmanship among our young folk.

He complimented the commuters for their work with the Boy Scouts, and urged us to do more and more, because when the boy becomes a man, then is when we will receive our dividends on our investment.

PUBLIC NOTICE

In the Southern Division of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, the matter of James Leon Swinney, Bankrupt No. 24,112-H. Notice of First meeting of Creditors. To the creditors of James Leon Swinney, Debtor, who is hereby given that on November 17, 1949, James Leon Swinney was duly adjudged a bankrupt on a petition filed by him on November 17, 1949, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at Room 609 Grant Building, San Francisco, California, on December 13th, 1949, at 2:00 p.m., at which time said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting. Dated at San Francisco, Calif., on November 18th, 1949. Burton J. Wyman, Referee in Bankruptcy. Nov. 21, 1949.

It is regrettable that there were not more commuters in attendance for this fine talk. In fact, Pres. Roy Fredlund for the first time since he took office, called to task the commuters as a whole for their indifference toward these fine programs which are being arranged for them, and he especially issued a verbal spanking to committee chairmen who are neglecting to attend the directors' meetings to make their reports. President Roy pointed out that at this particular time, the fullest possible cooperation of all the members is necessary in order to gain our purpose.

House Committee Chmn. Bob Nelson announced the arrangements were complete for the Commuters Club to "take over" the Belmont Casino (that's a cafe) for our Christmas party the night of Thursday, Dec. 8. The Casino is under new management and we are assured that everything possible will be done to make our holiday party the best yet.

We shall have the entire place to ourselves, and heading the entertainment will be Slim and Bernice, well-known Peninsula entertainers. Bring as many guests as you wish. The more the merrier Christmas.

We try to welcome new members to the Commuters for the first time through this column. Though Dick Murphy has been a commuter for the past three months, we feel that we slighted him by failing to get his name at the time. Welcome to the Commuters Club, Dick.

OPEN EVENINGS AND SUNDAYS LUCKY STORES WILL BE CLOSED THURSDAY, Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day

EAGLE EYE — With the upland game hunting season getting underway last week, birds are fortunate that Simpson Reinhard, Redwood City marksman, sticks mainly to target shooting. Reinhard, who can't find a place to hang all his medals, is one of the leading pistol shots in the United States. Aided by Reinhard's eye, the San Jose Pistol Club captured the team championship last September in a tournament at Oakland. Last week Reinhard and fellow marksman Joe Graf, also of Redwood City, took second and third spots in firing for the San Francisco unit team of the Coast Guard League.

Percy Long, Tax Deputy, Succumbs

Percy E. Long, chief deputy in the office of Tax Collector Ralph MacArthur since 1935, died early Saturday of a heart attack at his home, 238 Lowell St., Redwood City.

Mr. Long, 55, had not been ill and had worked his regular shift yesterday, his associates reported.

Death occurred about 2:40 a.m. Mr. Long, a native of San Francisco, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lucille Stafford Long, a daughter, Mrs. Roberta Dodd of Honolulu, and a granddaughter, Paula Dodd.

Mr. Long was appointed to his post in the county tax collector's office in 1935. Before that time, from 1923 he had conducted the Stafford and Long grocery store in partnership with the late George Stafford.

Mr. Long during the first world war served in the infantry. He was a past master of the Redwood City Masonic Lodge 168 F. and A.M., and had been a member of the San Mateo County Employees Assn.

Many Children Attend Storybook Hour in SC

Mrs. J. Emmett Mahoney and Mrs. Norman Brossell were readers recently at the first autumn Storybook Hour held at the San Carlos Library. Mrs. Ray T. Marsh, chairman, said there was an outstanding turnout of children.

The Storybook Hour, held on a weekly basis during the summer, will continue through the school year on the second Saturday of each month from 11 a.m. to 12 noon at the library.

Mrs. Marsh held an informal meeting at her Cordilleras St. home recently when chairmen and readers were lined up for the year.

Mrs. Richard Epling accepted the chairmanship of books and Mrs. Richard Rockoff was named to serve as cochairman with Mrs. Marsh in charge of readers. Mrs. A. J. Lane, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Rockoff, Mrs. Epling, Mrs. Albert Stewart, and Mrs. Louis Schenone attended.

Red Cross Holds Meet Of Home Service Units

The first group meeting of the fall series for home service departments was held recently at San Mateo County chapter headquarters, American Red Cross, in Burlingame with Margaret Conant, Pacific area consultant in charge.

Emphasis was given to military welfare service with Robert H. Williams, field director at Treasure Island, and E. F. Bradley, field director at Mare Island representing their respective posts.

Attending from the Sequoia chapter home service staff were Mmes. Vincent J. Malone, Richard Schmidt, Joseph Morrow and J. S. Worden.

Athletic Club Discusses Plans For Future

San Carlos Women's Athletic Club held its monthly meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Lucille Mohlfeldt, with Pres. Nat Warden presiding. Club members voted to donate to the Peninsula Christmas Committee for hospitalized veterans.

Dec. 13 was scheduled as the date for the club's installation dinner at Bondy's. Reservations must be made by today with Mrs. Alice Norbut.

It was announced that the future meetings of the club will be held at the recreation center on the second Tuesday, while the fourth Tuesday will be reserved for various activities of the members.

Mrs. Emma Thompson reported that bowling enthusiasts will bowl every Tuesday morning. For details Mrs. Thompson may be reached at SC 821-J.

Mrs. Babe Johnson announced the annual Christmas party, for members and their families, will be held on Dec. 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. Mrs. Daisy Stanley thanked members for the plant sent her after the club had met at her home for a barbecue.

Two new members introduced were Mrs. Alice Hurley and Mrs. Dorothy Lum.

After the business meeting Mrs. Marion Granish introduced two representatives of Luzier's who demonstrated and talked on care of the skin. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Violet Pink and her hostess committee.

Girl's Escape Foiled by Police

A 16-year-old San Carlos girl escaped from Hillcrest, San Mateo County's Juvenile Hall, Friday night but was apprehended in Redwood City Saturday.

Redwood City police said they took the girl into custody after they received a tip she was planning to visit a girl friend in San Carlos.

When she arrived at the home at 9:30 today she was detained by the police.

Probation Officer John S. Cowgill said that the girl slipped out through a kitchen door during the dinner hour, after the door's latch had failed to close properly. She was returned to Hillcrest.

Motor Scooter Becomes Toaster

Mike Hewett, 162 Kelton Ave., San Carlos, found last night that his motor scooter turned into a mobile toaster—without the pop-up features.

Young Mike, San Carlos firemen reported, was aboard his scooter en route home about 5:45 p.m. when things began to happen.

At Laurel St. and St. Francis Way, the scooter got hot and a loaf of bread slated for delivery blazed to a golden brown.

Firemen saved the scooter, but the bread just kept getting browner.

Members of Belmont Garden Club Display Their Hobbies at Meeting

A hobby display highlighted last week's meeting of the Belmont Garden Club at the parish house of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Mrs. Ernest Armstrong, club chairman, displayed Hummel figurines, while Mrs. Anthony Lipp brought samples of ruby glass. Mrs. Sydney Muller brought pieces of ceramics which she had made and Mrs. Adrian Smith displayed an antique sterling silver tea pot dating back to the early part of the 19th century, which had been handed down in her family. Mrs. Elizabeth Rebec showed miniature pictures made by hand in petit-point in 1824 and Mrs. Jess Townsend wore a dress which she had knitted herself. Also on display were old vases, treasures of Mrs. Ruth Ross and a silk comforter quilted more than 100 years ago was brought by Mrs. R. A. Page Jr. Mrs. Charles Edelson showed a hand crocheted table cloth and napkins.

PROPOSED WOODSIDE AMPHITHEATER—This is the artist's conception of how the Woodside Youth Committee's amphitheater will appear after it is completed. The group, composed of representatives of several local organizations, is seeking to raise funds for this outdoor meeting place on property at the rear of the Woodside School. Members of the group who obtained the land pointed out that the site, which is in a wooded area, makes an ideal location for such a project.

Barnharts Open Florist Branch

Mr. and Mrs. Max Barnhart of the Redwood City Florist have opened a branch at 2356 Broadway in answer to demands for a downtown outlet.

A complete staff will function at both the downtown branch and their greenhouse and retail store at 2710 El Camino Real, which they have operated for three years. They previously owned the Perennial Gardens of San Carlos and were also in the floral business in Gilroy.

The Redwood City Florist handles all types of floral work, corsages, table arrangements and decorations for weddings, funerals, banquets, special parties, and halls. A specialty of theirs is interior landscaping, Mrs. Barnhart said.

Louis Maraschin, head floral designer, was formerly with Angelo Rossi's of San Francisco and the San Mateo Florists. The Barnharts have lived in Redwood City more than six years.

Many New Units Being Rented

One of every three dwelling units being built this year is going into the rental market, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics reports received by the Home Builders Council of California and released today by Council Chmn. Robert B. Johnson.

Explaining that the figure is based on national compilations, Johnson said the rapid progress in rental construction marks "beginning of solution of the last post-war housing problem."

He listed the three major post-war efforts of the home building industry in their order of importance as: 1. Housing of every type and in every price class. 2. Housing in the under $10,000 price bracket. 3. Rental accommodations.

The council spokesman declared the first shortage was definitely overcome by mid-1948 at which time a better labor supply and the increased flow of building materials permitted

San Carlos Reports Building Flurry

San Carlos building permits boosted the city's valuation of construction for the year by almost $100,000 during the week ending at noon yesterday, figures released by Bldg. Insp. Vincent Murphy showed today.

The office issued 14 permits during the week, despite an Armistice Day shutdown. Of the permits, nine called for construction of new dwellings, bringing the year's total to 242.

Three permits were for alterations, and two others were for additions.

Telephone paychecks also come to you

1. Timber... paper... copper—we have to buy many things to build and run the telephone system. Last year Western Electric, our principal manufacturer and supplier, bought over 20 million dollars worth of materials in the West. More than half of each dollar we take in goes for employees. Most of it is spent and goes into circulation where they work and live.
2. More than 80,000 of those whose savings built the business... who own telephone stock... live in the West. In return for the use of their money, a few pennies of each telephone dollar go to them. And as they spend it, they also add to Western prosperity. It would probably be hard to find anyone who does not in some way benefit from the money we spend.
3. When you add it all up, you find the money you spend for service comes back, in large part, to you. And your telephone dollars are buying more service than ever. Today you can call more of the people you want to call... more can call you. And your telephone still does its jobs for only a few pennies a call.
